Getting half credit for small errors doesn't teach me nor make you a good professor. Find a different professor. I'll drop out before I take her again.

This was the easiest computer class I've ever taken. Assignments are EASY, they literally show you each step. The exams give you 3 tries for each task, you can skip a question and come back to it later. I did NOT need any book/e-book. Anything you're stumped on, google it, much faster. The only thing I would recommend is, use an actual mouse. A+

Her class is very easy but it can be frustrating when you have problems. It takes her days to response to your questions. She does not answer her phone or return her messages. All in all, not very helpful at all. Good thing it was an easy class.

I read some bad ratings on her, but had no choice but to take the class. She is not a bad teacher, its a pretty easy class, just make sure you read the book before exams. She takes about 3-4 days to respond to emails. And when doing an assignment if she gives a description of the assignment but tells you its on a specific page, go by the book!

This class was ok. It's easy but tedious. Normally had to wait on Prof. in the morning. I got an A though so I was happy.

I found this professor to be very aloof and generally uninterested in teaching. I could have just as easily taken this as an online class because I received little to no instruction from her. And unfortunately, whenever I or someone else did ask questions-she appeared pained to answer them. I know that I will take take another class of hers.

Do not take this professor for anything. We were almost done with this class and she just up and changed the coursework. No warning no nothing. She is horrible about answering emails and is rude when she does. BEWARE!!! She has truly affected my grade. I registered for one of her classes for the Spring term. NOT!!!!

Do not take this teacher online, she doesn't answer questions quickly or clearly. I'm half-way through the course right now and she just changed all our due dates without any notice and I missed my midterm. It's an easy class, most of it's common knowledge, it's the teacher you have to watch out for she volatile!

If you take her class be sure to go to class, keep your personal problems home, and try your best to do all her work. If you don't mind all that then I say, go for it because

Mrs. Amaro is a very nice teacher. She kind of sticks to the book, but that's usually good. All you have to do is complete your assignments and attend class, and you'll do perfectly fine. Just don't be a lazy student like a lot of people are.
